CONTESTANTS IN THE OCEAN BEACH BEAUTY CONTEST, held Thursday evening, June 5, in the Strand Theater, being introduced to the judges and audience by Larry King, master of ceremonies and representative of the County Fair board. Chosen as Ocean Beach's entrant in the "Fairest of the Fair" contest was Billie Johnson (No. 1 in the upper right), who was sponsored by Henry Voss at the Market Basket. Runner-up was Anne Madigan (No. 4), sponsored by Shaw's Ocean Beach Furniture. Other contestants pictured are Joan Hollobaugh (No. 3), sponsored by the Ocean Beach News; Monette Johnson (No. 5), whose sponsor was the Lownes Department Store; Gloria Alvarado (No. 6), sponsored by the Veda Moss Style Shop; Kay Wilson (No. 7), sponsored by Massey Horton of the Kraft Drug Store; Eddie Crispell (No. 8), who was sponsored by the Ocean Beach Grill; and Annabelle Foley (No. 9), sponsored by Elm's. Picture No. 2 shows a line-up of all nine contestants.

The winner, Billie Johnson, will compete in the county contest at the Fox Theater in San Diego on Monday, June 23. This contest will decide who is to be "Fairest of the Fair" at the County Fair this summer.

Each contestant in the Ocean Beach competition was awarded a prize by her sponsor. Judges were Jim Noel, J. L. Richardson and Walter Anderson. Special credit for the success of the event should go to the Ocean Beach Chamber of Commerce's Community Activities committee, headed by Arnold J. Morss Sr. Mr. Morss and his committee worked hard at arranging what was termed by fair officials as "one of the most successful beauty contests."

"City Must Have Revenue from Bay Project," Calland

SOMETHING MUST BE DONE WITH MADE LAND, HE TELLS MISSION C. C.

Leo Calland, city recreation director, speaking before the Mission Bay Chamber of Commerce at the June meeting, Monday night, declared that the "city must have revenue from the Mission Bay development in order to carry on maintenance of the project, to say nothing about funds to help repay the city's part of the construction costs."

"Something must be done with the made land that has been dredged from the bay. We cannot allow it to remain idle throughout the long construction period that will e required for completion of the project."

He intimated that there is still need to use some of the made land for the "Tent" city that Mayor Harley Knox recently had contemplated, "especially since private investors are falling down on the job."

Calland was the main speaker at the meeting, which was held at the Mission Beach Elementary school. The auditorium was practically filled.

Steven Young, president of the Chamber of Commerce, made the other main talk of the meeting. He left the chair, however, and spoke his personal sentiments on the question "before the house." He emphasized that the Mission Bay area has real need for cooperation among the various communities to the end that the Bay area will be adequately developed. He said he welcomed constructive criticsm.

Pointers Place Five On All-Star Team Of Metro League

Point Loma high school's baseball team, which won the championship of the Metro league, placed five of its stars on the all-league honorary team chosen by the Breitbard Foundation of San Diego. The all-star team was named by the various coaches in the league.

As announced by the Foundation this week, the five Pointers honored, are Paul Kaneyuki pitcher, Don Blackman shortstop, Joe Medina center field, Joe Correia third base and Y. Takeshita second base. Kaneyuki went through the season undefeated in the 13 games he pitched.

Evelyn Falls Into Mud Hole on Walk To San Francisco

This week we are again pleased to publish a letter from Evelyn Stradley, daughter of Captain and Mrs. E. E. Stradley of 1966 Froude St., who is currently making headlines by staging a walking trip from Ocean Beach to San Francisco. The following letter is written from Lake Arrowhead to Mrs. Carl Oberg of 4605 Saratoga Ave.:

June 1, 1947.

Dear Mary:

Am turning into a real mountaineer. The people here (about 5000 year around population) are just wonderfully friendly and it is easy to get acquainted. They talk mournfully about there being litle to do since the "season" isn't open yet, but what with boating, dancing, swimming, fishing, horseback riding, paddleboarding and bowling, here's one city slicker who hasn't been very bored. And the fishing! It's so good anybody can catch them —even me. A girl who really

Plans for Masonic Temple for Ocean Beach Being Drawn

Plans are being drawn by Architect Wm. P. Lodge of San Diego for the proposed new Masonic Temple for the Ocean Beach area. Point Loma Lodge No. 620, F. & A. M., has grown so large because of numerous members added during recent years that the present hall on Newport Ave. is no longer adequate to properly carry on the functions of the lodge, officers of the group informed The News.

Location of the proposed new building is on the south side of Voltaire St. between Sunset Cliffs and Ebers, where a site 50 by 100 feet has been purchased by the lodge. A two-story structure with ground dimensions of about 45 by 90 feet is planned, and it is to be constructed substanial enough so that a third story can be built later as the need may arise.

Plan is to use the entire Temple for lodge purposes, with the first floor to be given over principally to a banquet and recreation room, reserving the entire second floor for the meetings of the lodge and the Eastern Star chapter.

Fund raising has been placed under the direction of the recently organized Point Loma Masonic Temple association. The association was incorporated this year, with Harry P. Bowman as the president, Richard T. Moore as the secretary and Harold K. Rankin as the treasurer.

O. B. Softball Team Whips Braubach To Tune of 10 to 5

The Ocean Beach Merchants Softball team moved a step further up the ladder Wednesday night when they defeated the Braubach Company team 10 to 5 at the University Heights ball park. This was the last prep game before the start of the official season, Monday, June 16.

A league classification had not been given to the Ocean Beach team at the time of publication, although Captain Bill Homik reported that he is confident his team will be in one of the city's best leagues. He emphasized that the team could definitely use more support from the people of Ocean Beach at the games, and he expressed the belief that this support would materially help the chances of the team. Mr. Homik is cooperating with Arnold Morss, chairman of the Ocean Beach Chamber of Commerce's community activities committee, in expediting work on the proposed Ocean Beach softball park across from the community center.

Norma on Her Bike Journey Describes Louisiana Folks

This week's travelog to the Ocean Beach News from Norma Belloff, touring bicyclist from this community, writes interestingly and informally her impressions of the folks in Louisiana, as follows:

May 19, Monday.

Mom: Let's see, I left you at Lake Charles, La. Things happen so fast that I hardly have time to breathe! I'm up to my neck in adventure—it almost went over an arrogant policeman, young but with a large, loose, ugly mouth, stopped and questioned me. I used my battered clipping (that we cut from a San Diego newspaper) as I have numerous other times, for identification. The clipping has

On the steps of the post office my head.

New Ocean Beach Market

Grand Opening of New Ocean Beach Market on W. Point Loma Blvd. Today

The grand opening of Terry LaGrone's new Ocean Beach Market has been set for today (Friday), marking another milestone in the business growth of this community. The enlarging and remodeling program was completed this week at a cost estimated at $25,000. The new market now features, besides the enlarged grocery, delicatessen, meat, and produce departments, a fountain grill and a bakery department, both operated by George Lahoud.

Keith "Larry" Lair will continue as owner and operator of the meat department, with Sig Samuels owning the produce. Mr. LaGrone is opening a real estate office in the northwest corner of the building, which he will operate himself, assisted by Mr. Lahoud and A. B. Anderson, Rear Admiral, U. S. N. (retired). This office will feature investment counseling as well as real estate and insurance. Mr. LaGrone will continue to operate the grocery department himself, assisted by his sister, Mrs. Wilma Miller.

A feature of the new store is the aisleway along the east side of the entire market, permitting easy access to any or all departments. New fixtures include all new fluorescent lighting, display counters, frozen food compartments and fountain and bakery fixtures.

Heydey of Vanished Local Wonderland Recalled by Ocean Beach Pioneers

(By Marian Krettler)

(Editor's note: The following is another in a series of feature articles telling of the early days in Ocean Beach, written by one of this community's most talented writers.)

The old olive orchard, long a landmark at the end of Venice street, has given way to a modern sub-division. So time marches on, bringing change with its advance. When that orchard was planted in 1882 by Selah Chamberlain and his son, Willson, it was intended as a new industry for San Diego. The crop was to be processed locally, but while the eventual yield was of fine quality, it was small, and the expense of operation prohibitive.

Water sometimes cost $150 monthly, and Harry Coward, the manager, had to be paid. So eventually when the Chamberlains

O. B. WOMEN GIVEN POSTS IN SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA WOMEN'S CLUBS

Two Ocean Beach women have been appointed to 2-year posts in the Southern California District Federation of Women's Clubs. They are Mrs. C. W. Early, who has taken the position of press chairman, and Mrs. Frank Levin, who has been appointed to the chairmanship of the Cancer Control ocmmittee.

Kiwanians Speaker Says Our Privileges Have Definite Price

The numerous privileges we have in the U. S. in excess of those enjoyed by residents of other countries have a definite price that is up to us to pay, the Kiwanians were told at their Tuesday evening meeting held in Wallace hall. The speaker was Dr. Glenn Phillips of Hollywood, pastor of the First Methodist church of that city. He was in San Diego for the annual Methodist Conference of the Southern California-Arizona district. Rev. Paul Biesemeyer of Point Loma Methodist church was program chairman for the evening. Attendance was the largest in several weeks.

At the business session Arthur Thomas Beyers, a warrant officer on duty at the Marine Corps base in San Diego, was inducted as a new member of the club by Paul Hendrickson. Beyers is a resident at 4831 Santa Cruz Ave.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Arnold of 4525 Saratoga Ave. spent last week-end in Culver City visiting friends.

proven more valuable than any of the other papers.

By the time I left Lake Charles I was down to 10 cents. I ate wild berries for lunch. They grow in rampant briars on the wire fences and in road ditches where water often lays in shallow puddles or runs to flood rice fields.

The south wind was powerful and though only blowing across me, made me strain almost too hard on the pedals. When I came to the fork where highway 190 branches north to Baton Rouge, I turned north and sailed with the wind. I was surprised to see, growing on the roadside slopes, several pineapple guava trees, thick with meaty blossoms. I paused to eat a few of the sweet petals and for an aching second I was home.

Later on I ate more berries, their sweetness made me heedless of the thorns that tore my hands and ankles and fastened creepers like arms up the sides of my pants and shirt. I was startled when a —pow and ssssss!, like a pin-stuck balloon, came from my bike, lying on the highway's shoulder dirt. The rear tire was flat, so I hiked it to the nearest service station. (Lost my air pump in the river.) The station man (in his late forties) helped patch the blowout and then gently parted my hair down the back, when I asked him to, so I could tie it in two pieces, off my neck.

I headed east again.

On my way to Eunice I was surprised at the number of lone men traveling. My ride offers were so frequent they became annoying.

It was funny to see the farm folk halt suddenly in their work or porch conversations to stare pop-eyed at me. I smile, wave and receive many friendly gestures in return. The men all look alike—long, French faces, under straw hats, lanky, wiry bodies in blue overalls, usually bare feet. The women, sitting porched in rockers are fat—the ones doing their work or tending stock are slim. Every other place along the highway belongs to a negro family. Some of the homes are junky shacks, others well kept cottages. One tiny doll house needs a coat of paint, but has bright, clean feed sack curtains billowing at the windows and door. A nice looking colored woman in more feed sack print (the typical dress for country women from El Paso on) is briskly sweeping in the doorway. I glimpse past her at the neat, cozy room and quilt covered bed. I would like to be a guest at that little home and a friend of that woman.

A scrawny boy on a horse is driving cows by the road—guess him as 19. The cattle frighten when they see me. They break and turn. The boy, cussing vulgarly through his missing front teeth, rides after them. A speeding car screeches and barely misses a red calf. I pass quickly after the car. The boy hollers, "Wait, come here." He wants to talk to me, but I smile back and go on.

The silent forerunners of night are creeping out of the east. I pass a white colonial mansion sitting majestically in back of a grove of pines. Its white columns give a perfect reproduction of the typical southern plantation homes of my imagination. I'd like to know more about the green-trimmed palace. The more I think of it the more I want to go back, finally I make an about face, to the surprise of two grocery loaded negro women walking home. I cross the cattle guard in the white lattice fence and ride the pine needled drive. My heart is in my mouth, but I want so badly to really see one of these homes. Perhaps these people will give me a day's work. I am dirty and slightly ragged, as I stand on the red brick porch. I push the modern doorbell beside the towering, massive white door.

More later.

Love, Norma.

(Card to sister June contains all we know, so far, of what happened after she pushed the doorbell.)

Dear June:

You'd sure like the country I'm in now—straight from "Scarlet O'Hara." Friday night I asked at a huge white columned colonial mansion for work, in trade for seeing the inside. Instead they gave me two meals, a colored maid, a four-postered bed, private bath and sumptuous room, in trade for my "story," which I gave the best I know how.

Arrives in New Orleans

May 21, New Orleans (excerpts from letter to June). Arrived in New Orleans today at 4:30. I received your chawming (latest addition to my vocabulary—acquired from Louisiana's upperclass) letter when I arrived. Speaking of scenes—I'm in the midst of one myself. I'm at a small table between the first and second bed of a dormitory in the new New Orleans Y. W. C. A. My maps, pamphlets, clothes, letters and "junk" are spread on my bed, the table and overflow to the floor. In a nearby grocery I asked for 10 cents worth of cheese and got much more than 10 cents worth 'cause the fella didn't want to cut the chunk, or he liked my tan faced smile and yellow sundress. I'm too lazy to get my knife so I'm chawing on the huge chunk, tch, tch!

No dear, I didn't know it hasn't rained in San Diego! The last two days I've spent "s w i m m i n g" through Louisiana. Every "stitch" I own got wet to the bone; how am I to know its dry where you are?

Love, Norma.

(Note — We have pineapple guavas here in our yard. The mocking birds are very fond of the petals of the flowers.)

TEEN CHATTER

(By Alyce Rosa)

Sunburn, freckles and tan distinguish Point Loma's seniors this week! The kids are recovering from the day of days—"Ditch Day" which took place June 11. Beautiful Del Mar (including the swimming pool and tennis court of the Del Mar hotel) was chosen for the gay doin's. After meeting at the Point Loma Community church at 8:30 a. m. the group left in caravan of private cars led by John Lamott, class sponsor.

Another senior event which is being discussed is the traditional senior girls' mothers tea hostessed annually by the Girls' league on June 5. Included in the afternoon's program was a fashion showing of the wardrobe of a typical senior. Among the models were Priscilla Allen, Marcia Drummet, Darlene Gardner, Mary Matsch and Arita Winston. Commissioner of girls' activities, Patricia Shannon, in general charge of the event, asked Marie Little and Joyce Bischoff to pour. A committee of Juniors assisted with arrangements.

Annual senior class vespers are set for Sunday, June 15, at 4 p. m. in the Central Congregational church on 9th and F. Chairman Darlene Gardner announced that the Girls' glee club is to sing. Parents and friends are invited.

Club Chatter

Seniors are reminded of the annual Zettz "After-Prom" to be given on June 17 at Virginia Buchannan's home, 2673 Narcissus Dr. Following commencement exercises for Point Loma High, June 19, La Chere's and Trez-N will hostess "Aloha Oe" at the Thursday clubhouse. Seniors and dates are invited!

Underclass members of Ro-Ketz recently feted mothers and senior sisters at luncheon in the El Cortez hotel dining room. A similar affair was hostessed by underclass Las Gatas, too, honoring graduating sisters: Nagene Urquhuart, Elinor Edwards, Norma Ghio, Barbara Shearer and Zona Yowell. Another L. G. affair was the back-country all-day picnic on June 7. Gals 'n dates reported a swoonderful day! Still another "adios" affair was the beach party at which La Chere's honored their grads. The recent Zettz dessert dance at the San Diego Yacht club was the closed-bid dance of the season. The gay, sport affair was followed by slumber sessions aboard Toni Harpsts' yacht "Mapabene" and Jo Jefferson's "Honey Girl." Hear by the grapevine that Kampus Katz (prexy "Ginny" Clark) and Prims (prexy Shirley Beck) are arranging a baseball game. May the best club win!

A recent surprise shindig at Ann Odinot's attracted a large crowd of Lomans. The hush-hush affair was in honor of Frank Barner's (Annie's steady beau) 17th birthday. Quiggs reported a mellow time at their recent house-party at John Traxler's—which was followed by a trek to La Jolla cave.

Mothers of ninth-graders at Dana Junior High are hostessing a "Graduation" party in their honor this afternoon. The school recreation room is the place—from 2 till 5. The moms are really outdoing themselves with refreshments and all the other trimmings to make this a party to remember. Ninth-grade graduation is scheduled to take place June 20, at 10 a. m. in the auditorium of Point Loma high school. Included in the program will be the presentation of the comedy "Suitable for Charity" by the best freshman thespians! Parts in this annual production are much sought after—and mean much work for the cast finally selected by a panel of judges.

Now It Can Be Told

Full names come to the fore as graduation time appears—with many surprising results. F'r example a glance at the graduation roster at Point Loma dins the info the following will receive diplomas: Eugene JORDEN Brown, Quentin TABOX Decker, RAYMOND Kenneth Fold and John MORING Percival. Gals include LENA Marcella Destray, HARRIET Darlene Gardner and ANNA ALICE Rosa!!!

A glance at the steady situation tells that Dave (Commissioner of General Affairs) Finster and Annabelle (Best Sense of Humor) Ryan and Bob Hobson-Betty Anderson are the latest additions.

Seen here 'n there! At the Drive-In theater: Jennings Brewer-Carol Troendly double dating with Roby Bowman-Mary Anne Harris. At the Loma: Danny Denton-"Penny" Pendleton double-dating with Pat Caldwell-Patricia McClanahan. At the beach: millions of Lomans last Sunday—'twas sooo hot!

Sign-off time is here again, kiddies, so till next week—'bye now! Please remember that anyone who does anything "newsy" should rush to the nearest phone and dial B-5745.

(Editor's Note—Most of the teenage social clubs, such as Jades, Kampus Katz, La Chere, Le Tiki, Prims, Trez-N, Zettz, J. O., Quiggs, Oaks, and Rebels, which appear in TEEN CHATTER are not sponsored or supervised by the school authorities. They are social in nature and operate outside of school under their own informal by-laws).

STATE COLLEGE NEWS

(By Claire Hollobaugh)

Finals are over at last and we've graduated seven Aztecs from Ocean Beach. Now that most of us have survived the battle of the campus we are willing to look forward to hours of dreary work, delightful vacationing or delicious beachcombing.

The Blue Book ball drew everyone in the book to Mission Beach last night for an evening of final celebration. Ocean Beach boasted two candidates for queen. They were Beverly Lake and Jean Aubin. And then there were gowns, gowns of every color in the rainbow. Barbara Lawrence looked very pretty and very quaint in a yellow and black cotton formal with wide shoulder straps and a full skirt with a bustle in the back. Dorothy Shepherd wore a fetching brown and white checked jersey with midriff and a high neckline. A string of pearls was the finishing touch. A white crepe strapless formal with a full skirt was worn by Julanne Jackson. Long white gloves and gold accessories were worn with this gown. Mary Jane Brazell looked sweet in a blue net formal with short sleeves, a sweetheart neckline and a full skirt. Mary Jane topped her gown with silver accessories. Another strapless was worn by Marty Jacobson, a yellow organdy with a very full skirt. A pink nylon marquisette over taffeta was very becoming on Beverly Lake. The full skirt drew into a bustle in the back. Beverly wore a rhinestone necklace with the gown. A marquisette formal with a full white skirt and printed bodice was the formal worn by Carmen Price. Lavender was the predominating color of the bodice. The gown had gathered sleeves and a round neck. Carmen chose silver accessories. Coleen Cooksy was very attractive in a blue taffeta with a full skirt and a deep ruffle across the shoulders. Gold accessories were worn with her formal. A beautiful pink and turquoise blue satin formal was chosen by Mildred Van Gessel. The pink satin skirt was covered with turquoise blue net while the bodice was striped pink and blue. Mildred wore a rhinestone choker. Nora Ingram was very neat looking in a black dinner skirt with a slit halfway to the knee and a long sleeved printed blouse. Nora's accessories were black.

Vacations, vacations and still more vacations. Everyone is going somewhere this summer. Herold Hulmerud is planning a trip to Vancouver, Canada, with a stop over at Glacier National park. Barbara Lawrence plans to visit relatives in Oakland and Los Angeles shortly after the close of this semester. Mae Walters is planning to spend some time in San Miguel, Calif. Mildred Van Gessel is ready for a trip to San Francisco to visit her brother. Eveline Barclay will start for San Antonio August 1. The forthcoming marriage of Richard H. McManus of 4584 Del Monte Ave. was annouced this week by his parents, Mrs. Faye N. McManus of that address, and Col. C. F. McManus of Elsinore, Calif.

The wedding, a formal afternoon affair, is scheduled to take place in the Presbyterian church of Belle Flower, Calif., June 29. The bride, Miss Jean Spiering, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Spiering of that city.

McManus has chosen as his best man his brother Tom McManus of Elsinore and Miss Spiering will be attended by two Belle Flower friends, Miss Helen Lean and her sister, Mrs. George Sutton. Ushers will be Henry Doerr of Ocean Beach and George Sutton and Joseph Wilson, both of Belle Flower.

Music for the ceremony will be provided by a 15-year-old friend of the bride, who will sing, and by another 15-year-old, a cousin of the bride, who with his family will come from Washington to play the organ for the occasion.

The bride will wear the traditional white gown, and will be given in marriage by her father. Both families expect to be well represented, some of the bride's relatives and friends coming from their homes in the East. Mrs. Spiering will wear a formal gown of powder blue lace, and Mrs. McManus will be dressed in pale chartreuse. The flowers have not as yet been decided.

The couple, after a secretly-destined honeymoon, will return to San Diego, where McManus has built a home at Bird Rock in La Jolla. He expects to continue his career with Consolidated Aircraft. A graduate of Point Loma high school, he served during the war with the United States army in the Philippines, after which he entered the business world with Consolidated.

Miss Spiering is a graduate of Belle Flower schools, and later attended the University of California in Los Angeles.

Donna Grace's . . . "Talk Of The Town"

Greetings and salutations to friends old and new. You know one of life's greatest treasures is to have friends. Friendship isn't something you can buy or own, but something you must earn and strive to keep through a smile, a cheerful word or deed, and to be there when your friend is in need. I hope that I can be a friend to you and help you with my suggestions about your home, your personal appearance, and keep you posted on where to buy. Also give you a bird's-eye view of current news and events.

Something you ladies might like to know: Do your nails peel, chip and break easily? Well, try this remedy. It's not an overnight cure-all, but if you stay with it for a few months you'll get results. Apply white iodine around the cuticle every night and it will heal, strenthen and toughen your nails. But all the massaging, buffing and iodine won't help if you insist on using your nails for screwdrivers and bottle openers. Learn to use the pads of your fingers for lifting and holding articles. Last, but not least, don't file your nails too closely, so that if you should snag or chip them you'll have that "little extra" to smooth out with an emery board or file.

Gads, how this community of Ocean Beach has grown in the five years that I've been here! Along with the older established places, you have many new places of business to give you a greater choice in whatever it is that you wish to buy, or places that you'd like to dine. Once our beach is improved, it will be the show place of San Diego. The fact that there are so many businesses starting proves that Ocean Beach is an up-and-coming community.

Speaking of places to eat have you ever been to the MA-LO Cafe, at 4145 Voltaire, for one of those mouth watering tacos. They are really something. Lois Quinn, the owner, is always there to greet you with a friendly hello. She also serves full wholesome meals, with beer, if you prefer, or a complete selection of sandwiches and desserts. By the way, the place has just been given a fresh coat of glistening white paint, which is set off beautifully by "Sally's" lovely fresh floral arrangements. When Lois is busy, there's Helen, or Mom (Banjo, as some of the customers like to call her), or Lee (ex-Marine) to serve you. You'll enjoy the friendly atmosphere in this cafe.

If you are one of the folks up Voltaire way, you'll appreciate the handiness of Week's Grocery Store at 4064 Voltaire St. They carry a full and complete line of groceries, meat, wines and beer. In the meat department you'll meet Paul Haskin with his ever-ready smile. He specializes in tenderized boneless sirloin, T-bone and veal steaks. The owners of this comparatively new and thriving business, are Wanda and Clarence Weeks. Mr. Weeks is an ex-soldier. Also to help you with your selections, and perhaps deliver for you, is Howard. Oh yes, let's not forget that they are open on Sunday from 9 a. m. till 5 p. m.

While we are on the subject of places of business up Voltaire way, I might as well tell you that I too have a shop at 4154 Voltaire and it's my endeavor to give you a complete service when it comes to your personal appearance. I design clothes for you ladies for your individuality, or perhaps you have your own pattern in mind. Also, for your convenience, there's a 3-day cleaners and laundry service, a 24-hour shoe repair service, and while you are at it, bring in your clothes to be mended, altered or re-woven or hosiery to be mended.

My daughters Charlotte, Colleen, and I had supper with a friend at the beautiful Pacific Shores Sunday night. I found that Joe Medina is away on a vacation leaving the management in the capable hands of Al Colonella. Lovely Shirley Edwards served the meal in her courteous, efficient manner. The mix-ologists are Claude Hargraves, and Bill (the octopus) Antone. The meals are prepared by Mrs. Bonnie Craft.

Here's a time saving tip for you busy mothers. Save those small jars with screw tops to put sandwich spreads in. These can be made by putting bologna through the meat grinder and mixing it with mayonnaise and picklelilly and salt. Try putting American cheese through the grinder, and mixing it with salad dressing. You'll like it. Let's not forget tuna fish and egg salads, too. Serve in sandwiches, in tomatoes, or as a spread or crackers for the children, hubby's lunch, or for those unexpected guests for a quick snack.

Speaking of salads, if you are having a wedding this month, or a beach or cocktail party, and want a really good homemade salad, fruit or vegetable, then you want "Arlene Salads." Her salads are packed under a bacteria lamp for your health's protection, and from freshly washed and chilled fruits and vegetables. Her orders are made up as you call them in, not in advance, or shipped from as far as Los Angeles. Many of the salads that are ready-packed are made from dehydrated vegetables and cut dressing. That is what causes the watery taste, and makes the potatoes hard. Arlene has her own secret recipe for seven salads, but will prepare any salad that happens to be your favorite. Knowing Arlene for years, and having seen her health-inspected kitchen, I personally recommend her product, backed by her money-back guarantee.

Speaking of parties, I can arrange for a complete service for you, meaning that you can really play hostess and mingle with your guests instead of worrying and becoming upset and forgetting the little things that make any affair a success. Most of all you can have peace of mind, to the point that everything will be spic and span when the party is over. Everything will be handled expertly, from the menu to having a union waitress, or bartender, to serve you and your guests. If you don't have the silver or linen, that will be taken care of also.

Well this just about ties up my first edition of "the Talk of the Town." If you have something to tell, announce, or sell or would like information on any of the above mentioned items please call Bayview 0143 and ask for Donna.

P.S.—Watch for next week's edition. You will receive the recipe for the Spanish chocolate cake that won the grand prize at the Chicago World's Fair.

Good-neighbor policy party-line style
To provide telephone service to more people, there are more party lines in use these days than ever before...and most telephones are busier than ever before. When you share a line with one or more parties, you'll all get the most from your telephone service if you'll remember...
Five Golden Rules for party-line neighbors
- Space your calls instead of making an extended series of them...and talk only as long as necessary.
- If yours is an emergency call, and the line is in use, explain the circumstances to the person using the line.
- If you are calling from a dial telephone, always make certain the line is clear before you dial.
- Ask your youngsters not to monopolize the telephone.
- Replace the receiver properly when you finish your call.

Thank you!

moved from the site and the copper water pipes were stolen in 1915, the enterprise was abandoned.

Mrs. Willson Chamberlain still lives at 5035 West Point Loma Boulevard. She was married in 1900 and came to Ocean Beach with her husband in 1909. A charming person, with a keen sense of humor and ready speech, she willingly turned her thoughts back to a former day, when Ocean Beach was so sparsely inhabited that it was necessary to borrow a pupil from town in order that the local school be kept open with a required quota of 10 students.

Perhaps you have noticed that cement flooring at the corner of Abbott and Voltaire streets. Formerly it was occupied by the entrance and offices of Wonderland, a very pretentious amusement center, erected about 1909. Bounded by Voltaire and Abbott streets it extended to bay and ocean, complete with chute-the-chutes, razzle dazzle, casino, restaurant and the predecessor of the modern roller-coaster. There was a menagerie also, and when Wonderland closed, just before the United States entered the first World War, the animals were turned over to the zoo, thus becoming the nucleus of what is today one of the finest zoos in the world.

Ocean Village is built on the pilings which formerly supported the casino and restaurant. The curving irons of the chute-the-chutes encompass a flower bed in Mrs. Chamberlain's garden. The unsettled world conditions preceding the war ended Wonderland as a paying project, but it is well remembered among old-time residents of this area as the place where San Diego came for relaxation and amusement.

The Chamberlains originally owned forty acres, called "Pueblo Lots" from an old Spanish grant. The property lines terminated somewhere in Mission Bay, extended half-way between Muir and Long Branch. Sub-divided in 1908, the addition was called Ocean Bay Beach.

The bride connecting Ocean Beach from Mission Beach, was built at a cost of $40,000 when the latter area was sub-divided by Barney and Rife. It was later presented to the city, for the contractors were making their profit from the sale of Mission Bay lots. Engineer Paul Munoz, scion of a great Cuban family, found local materials for bridge-building too expensive, so those needed items were purchased up north and floated, raft-fashion, to their present location.

The bridge was finished in 1913. Since the approach was through the Chamberlain property, Sam Mason asked their permission to run his street cars over the bridge, one every hour. However, as business increased, so did the number of cars operated on the route.

When comfort stations were under construction at both ends of the bridge, Mrs. Chamberlain protested. Harry Clark was San Diego's mayor at the time of the protest. Mrs. Chamberlain went down and complained to his council. "I talked and talked," said she, "and when I finally stopped for breath Mr. Clark gently remarked that the council had decided in my favor some time back." The offending structures were promptly removed.

Mrs. Chamberlain had another experience with the powers that govern when the sewer system in her area was installed in 1914. Previously, the Chamberlains had obtained permission to run a sewer outlet into Mission Bay. With the coming of the new system, they were asked to make connection. To which Mrs. Chamberlain consistently replied, "You can make connection any time you wish." Subsequently, this was done, and the Chamberlains paid their part of the expense as a concession to the march of progress. But legally, they didn't have to do it.

Willson Chamberlain died in 1933. Long before his passing, a boardwalk ran from Voltaire to Abbott streets. Can you visualize that today? With the encroachment of the ocean necessitating many tons of rock protection.

The lady who interviews these old-timers with me deserves mention in her own right. That must wait for a later time, but I like to think of her as the lover and guardian of Ocean Beach. She is my inspiration and guide, a woman who is determined that the history of our community shall not be lost in the decay of time, a person who planned many of the local attractions we enjoy today. I'll tell you of her as a climax to these little tales of Ocean Beach as it used to be.

OCEAN BEACH SCHOOL NEWS

Mrs. Katherine Porter entertained faculty members for the tea at her home, 5018 Santa Monica, on Friday afternoon, June 6.

Mrs. Porter's fourth graders recently visited the museum and aquarium, at the Scripps Institute of Oceanography. The trip was a part of the unit on seashore life. Cars were driven by Mrs. Paul Campbell, Mrs. C. R. Coyle, Mrs. C. M. Magnussen, Don Pogrell, Mrs. Olive Scott and Mrs. W. C. Turnell.

Miss Townsend's morning kindergarten children visited the San Diego Zoo on Wednesday, June 11. The afternoon group had the same trip on Thursday, June 12. A sightseeing bus trip provided an over-all picture of the zoo. Later the children explored the monkey and bird sections, and the canyon where seals and bears are exhibited.

On Monday, June 9, Officers Cassin, Smith and Winchester conducted a class for older children in safe bicycle riding.

The school orchestra, conducted by Mr. Popejoy, appeared at an assembly program this week. Children who played were Dick Bouley, Chu-Teh Killian, Esther Lustig, Jeremy Lustig, Dorothy Myers, Emily Van Gessel and Bob Williams.

Faculty members served tea at the P. T. A. meeting on Tuesday afternoon, June 10. Miss Vesta Petersen, principal, and Mrs. Abbie Karl poured tea. Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Porter decorated the table.

She tells how they are repairing the bomb damage, and described the arrival of the king and queen from their recent tour of South Africa.

ROAD COMPROMISE FAILURE

The failure of the joint legislative committee on the highway bill to work out a compromise settlement was not surprising. From the very start the assembly and senate have held sharply differing views, not on the need for more and better roads, but on the amount of additional taxes, if any, necessary to finance them.

All along, the effort has been made to make it appear that the assembly was the villian in the matter, and was responsible for the impasse. The lower house has been repeatedly accused of yielding to lobbyists, of being indifferent to the "slaughter on our highways," of advocating more roads without being willing to levy the taxes to finance them, and so on.

It is quite apparent, however, that California citizens have not swallowed these accusations hook, line and sinker. Those especially, who looked into the issue more thoroughly want to know why so much was said about the influence of lobbyists opposing the Collier plan as it was passed by the senate, and so little said about the great number of lobbyists on the other side who were pulling all strings to get the assembly to pass it.

They want to know too, how the assembly can be accused of being indifferent to the "slaughter on our highways" when statistics prove that it is the condition of drivers and their cars instead of the condition of roads that account for nearly all accidents.

And, how come, they ask, that the assembly is charged with failure to provide needed funds when the Collier Committee's own report showed that enough money would be available at current tax rates to keep the road building program moving at full speed for the next four years, at least.

To these citizens there can be no doubt that the assembly acted in accordance with what it felt were the best interests of the people. And for such actions the assembly deserves credit, not condemnation.

TIME BOMBS BY VIC

A lot of people would rather know where they are than see where they could be.

In war we need a spirit that rises to meet danger—in peace a spirit that rises to part with indifference.

You can say all the right things but, if you don't do them, you don't fool anybody.

You can learn more through an open heart than through an open mind.

A new order in me begins a new order in the world.

Hurt feelings are the children of too much self-will.

Some people have a good background but it's too far in the background.

Our country is no stronger than its homes.

The crisis in the world is much greater than the one which affects our stomachs.

To appeal to men's self-interest is not to their best interest.

Lots of ideas are laid like eggs and left with no one to hatch them.

Dana Junior Fetes Sixth Graders in Annual Play Event

(By Principal C. R. Swenson)

Over 500 boys and girls from the sixth grades of 11 elementary schools in this area were entertained last Friday from 2 to 3:45 p. m. at Dana Junior high school. The occasion was the annual Dana Play day, sponsored by the Ocean Beach Kiwanis club. Each child received a chocolate coated ice cream bar with compliments of the Kiwanis club.

The program began with a band concert by the Dana Junior high school band, under the direction of Edward Janowsky. After the pledge of allegiance to the flag Principal Swenson greeted the horde of enthusiastic youngsters from the gym steps and introduced Mrs. Edith Smith, dean of girls, Cleon Davies, boys' vice-principal and the physical education staff of the school.

Coach Sidney Davis, with his crew of 36 student assistants, then took over and the children were organized into teams. Games of various kinds were played all over the field for about an hour.

A tour of the entire plant followed the games and a line of children over two blocks long wound in and out of the classrooms, shops, laboratories, etc., giving each child an introduction to the Dana teachers who remained in their rooms after school to greet the boys and girls who will enter Dana as seventh graders next fall.

Last season's championship team, Family Barber Shop, lost to Sharman's Flower Shop team Wednesday night. Sharmans are in the lead now with 18 wins and 2 losses, Family Barber Shop trailing with 14-6.

Mickey Gandolfi smashed the pins for a 180, her highest game, and high game for the night. Nina Burnett of the Sharmans had high individual series (484). Incidentally Nina picked up the 7-9-10 split while playing. Jeannette Russell picked up the 5-10 for the first time in her bowling career.

Five weeks of bowling shows that high team game (653) has been won by the Family Barber Shop; high team series (1802) by Sharmans; high individual game, Mary Hamilton (201); high individual series, Bernice Schmidt (512).

Line up for the match game on Sunday, June 15, between the males and females follows: Men, Bert Stratton captain, Cor Driscoll, Bill Weaver, Ray Strauss and Wesley Hesson. Women: Connie Rechtel captain, Bernice Schmidt, Vera Near, Muriel Brent and Gertrude Wright.

CHRISTIAN HOMEMAKERS MAKE CONTRIBUTIONS TO O. B. BAPTIST CHURCH

Georgia Sampson and Edna Taylor were co-hostesses at an evening party held at the home of the latter, 4744 Adair St., June 6, for the Christian Homemakers Class of the Baptist church.

President Jimmie Smidt opened the business session, and the devotional portion of the program was conducted by Eva Bolton. The song service was led by Harriet Jensen.

Reports were made to the group on two contributions to the church, a vacuum cleaner and a cooking range for the kitchen, and Irene Salesky reported several large boxes of clothing were taken to the pier for distribution overseas.

Fancy work was distributed among the members to finish for the forthcoming bazaar, which will be presented in the fall.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, after which the meeting adjourned, to meet next July 3 at the home of Irene Salesky, at which time Nellie Burt will be co-hostess.

Ocean Beach Bridge Players Win in Big Tournament at L. A.

The comparatively small community of Ocean Beach was unusually well represented at the 13th annual National and All-Western Contract Bridge tournament, held in Los Angeles June 5 through June 8. Over 1100 contestants from every part of the country competed for the trophies and awards. Mrs. G. M. Hogg of 4576 W. Point Loma participated in several matches, also Mr. and Mrs. John Christy of 4759 Narragansett and Mrs. B. H. Nielsen, formerly of 4581 Granger and soon to be at 4460 Del Monte.

Mrs. Nielsen had the good fortune to capture the Pacific Pairs championship, a hard fought doubles event. She and her partner Mrs. Jeff Meyers finished in sixth place last week Wednesday night, but it was a good sixth as the first six places were bunched near the top. Thursday night they got off to a good start and carried it through to a big win and thereby eliminated their runners-up, bringing home the over-all trophy.

Mr. Christy took top All-Western honors in the Junior Mixed Pairs Saturday night, with Mrs. Alice Connors of San Diego as his partner. His brother Philip Christy and partner Mrs. Virginia Nelson both of San Diego placed second in the same event.

Methodist Church Recommends Return Of Rev. Biesemeyer

Rev. Paul C. Biesemeyer, who is generally recognized as having done an outstanding job as pastor of the Point Loma Methodist church during the past year, is expected to be returned to the local pastorate for the coming year, a member of the pastoral relations committee informed The News this week. Though no formal action was taken at the recent fourth quarterly conference of the local church there was a general feeling that Biesemeyer should be appointed to return here. His appointment is expected to be made by Bishop James C. Baker, presiding officer of the annual Southern California-Arizona Conference in session this week at First Methodist church in San Diego.

Some 900 ministers and their wives and lay delegates are attending the session, representing the 325 Methodist churches of the district. Col. Rolin W. Shaw is the lay delegate representing the Ocean Beach church.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Pfeifer of 4770 Niagara Ave. are planning to leave Ocean Beach on a two-week vacation trip. They expect to go to Columbus, Neb. for a brief visit with Mr. Pfeifer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Pfeifer.

Four pedigreed pups were born June 10 to Lady Victoria, a pedigreed wire haired fox terrier owned by Commander and Mrs. R. W. Butcher of 4860 Narragansett. One of the pups died at birth, and of the three remaining, the Butchers plan to keep two and sell the third. The litter was sired by another registered dog, keeping the blood lines pure.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Schachtebeck of 4764 W. Point Loma Blvd. recently announced the birth of a granddaughter, Diane Christine, born on May 19 to Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Schachtebeck of Los Angeles. The father is the producer of the "Bride and Groom" radio show.

Director Oren Louden of the San Diego School of Arts and Crafts, formerly of Ocean Beach and now located in La Jolla, announced this week that he has chosen W. Horace Males of La Jolla as new business manager of the school.

The maroon tile and glass brick store front of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Thoma's Newport Pastry Shop was called "outstanding" in the May issue of Vitality News, a national magazine. The magazin published a photo of the local pastry shop in connection with an article featuring new bakery shops throughout the country.

SERVICES YESTERDAY FOR MRS. ANNA SHAW, 94

Funeral services were held yesterday for Mrs. Anna Shaw, 94, who died Monday at her home, 4945 Narragansett, after an illness of several months. Mrs. Shaw was a resident here for nine years, coming to California in 1935 from Kansas. She was born in Meritia, Ohio, in 1853, and is survived by a niece, Mrs. Henry Robinson of Oklahoma.

Funeral rites will be read by Dr. George A. Warmer, and interment will be in Greenwood Memorial Park. The arrangements were made by Bonham Brothers Mortuary.

Proceeds of Poppy Sale $150, Reports Legion Auxiliary

(By Myrtle Orrick)

Clyde A. Wright Unit 433, American Legion Auxiliary, in session June 5 at the clubhouse, Muir and Bacon Sts., read and adopted a resolution to revise their by-laws to include the first Thursday as well as the third as unit meeting nights. The membership is now 45 with two more members needed to win a special citation.

Mary Fold reported $150 was added to the unit treasury from the sale of poppies. This fund is to be used locally for child welfare and rehabilitation work. A donation of $15 each was sent to the Ethel M. Flynn Memorial nursery at Livermore hospital and to the Department Child Welfare fund. This was the proceeds of the special bingo party held on April 24.

Next meeting, June 19, will be nomination of officers. Election will be held July 3 and installation July 17.

O. B. Community Center News

(By John Wood)

On Monday, June 9, Mrs. Deason, Audrey Hoyes, Gene Kelly, Connie Melsbach, and Frances Wisdom went to Linda Vista Community Center to a meeting of the Stardust Club Advisory Board. We were shown around the building and had an opportunity to ask questions about the clubs organization. We learned many things that will be of use to us.

On June 20, the Stardust adult advisory board will attend the Ocean Beach Teen-Age club meeting. We have some great ideas such as a joint picnic at Presidio park. Only members of the teen-age club may go. The Stardust girls volley ball team has challenged the Ocean Beach girls to a game. Come on over, volley ball players, and let's get a team organized.

knows the inner secrets of this art passed along a tip in regard to bait which she dreamed up herself, and which she says works to perfection. Instead of live bait or flies she uses a thin strip of chamois skin, which wriggles like a worm in the water, and naturally, can be used over and over again. She claims it works better for crappie and bluegill than for trout or bass, however. So next time Carl takes you fishing you won't have to worry about slimy worms and other unbeautiful bait!

On the side Nature is slowly teaching me a few things, or rather, letting me absorb them—how to interpret the ceaseless undercurrent of forest noises, how to better protect myself from wind and cold, how to find and keep my bearings and not get lost—a stunt which is surprisingly easy out where one pine tree looks just like every other pine tree. Also there are ways of estimating how recently certain animals have been in the neighborhood which comes in handy.

I found the most beautiful pool one day, surrounded by wild rose bushes and columbine. The spring flowing into it tumbled down the mountain through hordes of mint with the result that the water was deliciously mint flavored.

Returning to the trail on the way back from town late one afternoon I found I was practically dogging a mountain lion's footsteps. Not that this was dangerous. By all accounts pumas run from people unless rabid or extra hungry. Just the same it wasn't so cozy to know there was one around—especially when I stumbled on to such a great deal of evidence of his passage that the horrible fear began brewing that maybe the animal wasn't healthy. "Oh, golly," I thought. "No healthy animal can be responsible for all this." Just at that psychological moment there was a rending, twig splintering crash right behind me. I whirled with upraised knife—and then nearly fainted with relief. A packrat had jumped from a fallen log to a rock and was noisily hurlying out of my path. After my stomach stopped playing skip-the-rope, I was very comforted by the fact that sheer instinct could, in a pinch, send that knife on duty in a split second.

Another small adventure didn't turn out so happily. At a point seemingly too far from the water to be very moist I was walking on what looked like well-packed soil. All of a sudden, without a moment's warning, I fell into a mud sink—fell all the way in, for it was a very deep sink indeed, and the mud, under the deceptive surface, was the consistency of chocolate cream pie. After playing up-again-down-in-again Finnegan for quite a spell I finally writhed, crawled and staggered out—minus my human dignity and as thoroughly chocolate-dipped as an Eskimo Pie. "Well, there's one comfort," I breathed, "nothing worse can possibly happen." Some Gremlin overheard that crack and met the challenge. Forty feet farther on I tumbled into another sink! To add to the situation an icy wind was blowing straight off San Gorgonio. But the worst—ah, the very worst—was yet to come. Either I camped in those mud flats till dark or walked along the highway for an unhappy distance in broad daylight. The icy wind, my wetness, and the sinking sun sort of forced the issue. Horns honked, jaws dropped, and people nearly fell out of car windows as Medusa Stradley stalked grimly along. Wonder what would have happened if I'd stick out my tongue and made a few faces? The next day a local sportsman asked, "How on earth did you ever get out by yourself? I fell in there one time and was completely helpless. The boys had to bring a dolly to pull me out." He was a very great comfort indeed.

Love, Evelyn.

ROAD COMPROMISE FAILURE

The failure of the joint legislative committee on the highway bill to work out a compromise settlement was not surprising. From the very start the assembly and senate have held sharply differing views, not on the need for more and better roads, but on the amount of additional taxes, if any, necessary to finance them.

All along, the effort has been made to make it appear that the assembly was the villian in the matter, and was responsible for the impasse. The lower house has been repeatedly accused of yielding to lobbyists, of being indifferent to the "slaughter on our highways," of advocating more roads without being willing to levy the taxes to finance them, and so on.

It is quite apparent, however, that California citizens have not swallowed these accusations hook, line and sinker. Those especially, who looked into the issue more thoroughly want to know why so much was said about the influence of lobbyists opposing the Collier plan as it was passed by the senate, and so little said about the great number of lobbyists on the other side who were pulling all strings to get the assembly to pass it.

They want to know too, how the assembly can be accused of being indifferent to the "slaughter on our highways" when statistics prove that it is the condition of drivers and their cars instead of the condition of roads that account for nearly all accidents.

And, how come, they ask, that the assembly is charged with failure to provide needed funds when the Collier Committee's own report showed that enough money would be available at current tax rates to keep the road building program moving at full speed for the next four years, at least.

To these citizens there can be no doubt that the assembly acted in accordance with what it felt were the best interests of the people. And for such actions the assembly deserves credit, not condemnation.

TIME BOMBS BY VIC

A lot of people would rather know where they are than see where they could be.

In war we need a spirit that rises to meet danger—in peace a spirit that rises to part with indifference.

You can say all the right things but, if you don't do them, you don't fool anybody.

You can learn more through an open heart than through an open mind.

A new order in me begins a new order in the world.

A lion without backbone becomes just a rug.

Hurt feelings are the children of too much self-will.

Some people have a good background but it's too far in the background.

Our country is no stronger than its homes.

The crisis in the world is much greater than the one which affects our stomachs.

To appeal to men's self-interest is not to their best interest.

Lots of ideas are laid like eggs and left with no one to hatch them.

knows the inner secrets of this art passed along a tip in regard to bait which she dreamed up herself, and which she says works to perfection. Instead of live bait or flies she uses a thin strip of chamois skin, which wriggles like a worm in the water, and naturally, can be used over and over again. She claims it works better for crappie and bluegill than for trout or bass, however. So next time Carl takes you fishing you won't have to worry about slimy worms and other unbeautiful bait!

On the side Nature is slowly teaching me a few things, or rather, letting me absorb them—how to interpret the ceaseless undercurrent of forest noises, how to better protect myself from wind and cold, how to find and keep my bearings and not get lost—a stunt which is surprisingly easy out where one pine tree looks just like every other pine tree. Also there are ways of estimating how recently certain animals have been in the neighborhood which comes in handy.

I found the most beautiful pool one day, surrounded by wild rose bushes and columbine. The spring flowing into it tumbled down the mountain through hordes of mint with the result that the water was deliciously mint flavored.

Returning to the trail on the way back from town late one afternoon I found I was practically dogging a mountain lion's footsteps. Not that this was dangerous. By all accounts pumas run from people unless rabid or extra hungry. Just the same it wasn't so cozy to know there was one around—especially when I stumbled on to such a great deal of evidence of his passage that the horrible fear began brewing that maybe the animal wasn't healthy. "Oh, golly," I thought. "No healthy animal can be responsible for all this." Just at that psychological moment there was a rending, twig splintering crash right behind me. I whirled with upraised knife—and then nearly fainted with relief. A packrat had jumped from a fallen log to a rock and was noisily hurlying out of my path. After my stomach stopped playing skip-the-rope, I was very comforted by the fact that sheer instinct could, in a pinch, send that knife on duty in a split second.

Another small adventure didn't turn out so happily. At a point seemingly too far from the water to be very moist I was walking on what looked like well-packed soil. All of a sudden, without a moment's warning, I fell into a mud sink—fell all the way in, for it was a very deep sink indeed, and the mud, under the deceptive surface, was the consistency of chocolate cream pie. After playing up-again-down-in-again Finnegan for quite a spell I finally writhed, crawled and staggered out—minus my human dignity and as thoroughly chocolate-dipped as an Eskimo Pie. "Well, there's one comfort," I breathed, "nothing worse can possibly happen." Some Gremlin overheard that crack and met the challenge. Forty feet farther on I tumbled into another sink! To add to the situation an icy wind was blowing straight off San Gorgonio. But the worst—ah, the very worst—was yet to come. Either I camped in those mud flats till dark or walked along the highway for an unhappy distance in broad daylight. The icy wind, my wetness, and the sinking sun sort of forced the issue. Horns honked, jaws dropped, and people nearly fell out of car windows as Medusa Stradley stalked grimly along. Wonder what would have happened if I'd stick out my tongue and made a few faces? The next day a local sportsman asked, "How on earth did you ever get out by yourself? I fell in there one time and was completely helpless. The boys had to bring a dolly to pull me out." He was a very great comfort indeed.

Love, Evelyn.

Betty Gilpin and Terry Randle Wed At McDonald Home

The home of Mr. and Mrs. G. G. McDonald, 4984 Saratoga, was the scene of a wedding Sunday, when Betty Gilpin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Gilpin of Aniston, Texas, exchanged vows with Terry Randle, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Randle of Junction, Texas.

The former Miss Gilpin had made her home with the McDonalds for some time, and inasmuch as her own parents were unable to attend the ceremony, the McDonalds arranged the affair in their stead.

The service was conducted by Naval Chaplain Keene Hedges Capen of the U. S. S. Tucson, and the bride was given in marriage by her brother, Charles Gilpin.

The wedding took place at 3 in the afternoon, amidst the blossoms of white Shasta daisies and the softness of the white candles which adorned the house. The bride was dressed in a white tailored suit with black accessories and wore a corsage of orchids.

Mrs. F. W. Green, sister of the bride was maid of honor. The groom's best man was his brother, Ensign Clinton Randle.

A reception followed the wedding, at which the bride and groom cut a three-tier cake, and Mrs. W. D. Chambers served at the punch bowl. Guests included Chaplain and Mrs. Capen, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Green and their sons, Ensign and Mrs. Clinton Randle, Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Luce, Mrs. Fulton, Charles Gilpin, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Green, Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Clark and their daughter, Mary Helen, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Chambers, Mr. and Mrs. G. G. McDonald and Mrs. Nellie Burt.

The couple will make their home in Mission Beach.

Mary Louise Ryan's Wedding on Mar. 21 At L. A. Announced

James H. Ryan of 4531 Voltaire St. announces the marriage of his daughter, Mary Louise to Homer Carl Maxon, retired chief warrant officer of San Diego. The wedding took place on March 21 at Los Angeles, Calif. The couple are temporarily in their new home in East San Diego at 3566 Van Dyke Ave. and expect to buy or build a residence in Ocean Beach within the next few months. The bride has retired from her position of six years as secretary to Attorney Irvin J. Kahn of San Diego and is secretary of the board of governors of the National World League for Dog Welfare Inc. of San Diego as well as a charter member of Tau Beta Phi sorority.

Mr. Maxon is the son of Delbert Maxon of San Pedro and Mrs. Frank Hancock of Klamath, Calif. He was born in Porterville, Calif. and educated in San Diego. He served 21½ years in the Navy and now is a retired chief. The Maxons say they would welcome a visit from their Ocean Beach friends at any time.

A kitchen shower was given by Dorothy Robinson for the Maxons on March 4, at which 18 guests were present.

"VIRGIL'S VIEWS"

All you pessimists got disappointed last Saturday night—as usual. Virgil's is no place for pessimists. But we heard so many bets that whoever won the seat covers at Virgil's offering wouldn't have a car, that that was the first question we put to A. C. Phillips of 4814 Cape May. And what do you know? He does have a car, and what's more he badly needs new seat covers. Elmer Larsen of the Auto Trim Shop is going to see to it that Mr. Phillips gets a set of Custom Made seat covers for his whoppee. Who says there isn't a Santa Claus? And S/Sgt. Edward Umlauf knew exactly what he was going to do with that $50 bill Virgil handed him, too. Seems he's just moved into a brand new home of his own, and he's going to buy some tools to use around the house. Seems as if we should make some crack about the marines having landed, but so many people in the crowd used the cliche as the Sergeant came through the crowd, that why should your reporter repeat it again?

Anybody have an extra pair of white chin whiskers and a suit of red flannels? Seems to us as if Virgil should make some attempt to look like Santa Claus on Saturday nights, 'cause he certainly acts like him. First he gives away the tickets for the offering; then he gives away all these prizes too. Just ask Mrs. Jack Hammann of 4652 Santa Cruz or W. J. Allison of 4963 Narragansett, who won the two $5 grocery orders last Saturday night if they don't think Santa Claus has come to town in June or Mrs. W. G. Niederhut of 2086 Bacon who has won two Saturdays in succession now. This time it was a 40-lb. box of bananas. It worries us to know how she got them home. Virgil probably delivered them, too. And let us not forget Mrs. Clyde Santarre of 1891 Ebers. Her gift was not as big as the box of bananas nor as valuable as a fifty dollar bill, but a two-pound fruit cake is not to be sneezed at, either. Isn't sanitary, you know!

And keep saving your tickets, folks, 'cause there's more and better things to come. Mary Jane's beauty shop . . . just down the street from Virgil's, is going to give away some tickets too, which will be offered at Virgil's. The winners will receive $2 to apply on any beauty treatments at Mary Jane's and on July 12, she's going to give away a permanent wave. So, ladies, if you're beginning to look like one of the bags that Virgil packs those white rose potatoes in, here's your chance to become a beauty again. —Adv.
